Lemon Grove Presents Candidate for High School Trustee

Kinyon Files for Place on Grossmont

Edward M. Kinyon, 4026 Violet street, has filed as a candidate for the Grossmont High School Board of Trustees.

Mr. Kinyon is 52 years old, married and has two sons, Pete, in Junior High and Robert in the fifth grade at Vista La Mesa School.

The Kinyons have lived in San Diego County eight years and in Lemon Grove three years. He is an electrician and is employed at the Naval Hospital.

He is a veteran of World War I and is active in local civic affairs. At the present time he is president of the Vista La Mesa Civic Group.

He was at one time branch manager of the Otis Elevator Co. Mrs. Kinyon is active in PTA circles, at the present time is on the Lemon Grove PTA Board, and has assisted in Scouting.

An active campaign on behalf of the candidacy of Mr. Kinyon will be carried on by his local supporters and others throughout the high school district. It has long been felt that this end of the district was entitled to representation on the high school board of trustees, and now the opportunity is offered for the people of Lemon Grove to rally behind a strong candidate.

Their cause is a just one. This growing community, and the fact the new high school is being built in this end of the district, entitles the Lemon Grove Elementary District to a place on the board.

Mr. Kinyon will meet as many of the voters of the district as is possible between now and election day May 18.

The Review calls upon everyone to rally to his support, and they can rest assured that in the event of his election, he will give untiringly and unflinchingly of his time to the affairs of the district.

Franz Schaubert, 4137 Massachusetts, has filed for Lemon Grove Elementary School trustee. V. J. Dorman, trustee is a candidate to succeed himself.

The Board of Trustees put the issue up to the people for approval or disapproval of the increase in the tax limit from 90c per $100 of assessed valuation to $1.40.

The total vote cast was 1573, divided as follows between the three polling places:

Lemon Grove	464	453
Monterey Heights	238	88

Netzey Expresses Appreciation

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all the individuals and organizations that worked so hard to distribute information and to insure a good turnout at the recent special school election. The Citizens' Committee gave of their time to see that every registered voter received a sample ballot indicating the proper polling place. Many expressions of appreciation have been received for this service.

The Parent-Teacher Associations worked long hours in preparing and distributing materials giving information to the public. The help they gave the voters in finding their names in the precinct books saved time, and it was very helpful to the election officials.

The Lemon Grove District Teachers Club assisted in the preparation of information, materials, and posters. Several other organizations provided time on their programs for a discussion of the tax election, thus giving an opportunity for a greater number of people to be well informed on the matter.

It was largely the efforts of these organizations that accounted for the heavy vote—1373, approximately one-third of the number of people registered in this school district.

Any election that involves taxes or finances is likely to be controversial. This election was no exception. Many of the arguments used by the opposition were in the form of constructive criticism that can be utilized by school officials.

We are deeply grateful for the successful passage of this measure. It is our sincere hope that no dissension or bitterness will remain as a result of this election, since it would, to a great extent, nullify the advantages that will accrue to the children and teachers through the increased funds.

We are glad that we have the privilege of working for or against any measure to come before the voters, and we feel no resentment toward those who may have opposed it. Signed Byron L. Netzey, District Superintendent.

IT'S A GIRL

Descendant of Pioneer Portrays His Part in Historic Event

In the portrayal of "History of Railroad" to be given by Cub Scouts of Pack 8 at Community Center tomorrow (Friday) evening, Fred Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Johnson, 7572 Central, will hold the symbol of golden spike which was driven May 19, 1869, at Promontory, Utah.

The golden spike was driven when the Western Pacific Railroad was completed and joined the Union Pacific near Ogden, Utah, and was held by W. Watson.

The coincidence in this story is that Cub Scout Fred is the great, great grandson of the man Watson, who held the golden spike.

Stiner Tells of Radio Activity

Howard Stiner, local contractor, who has been attending the Civilian Defense classes in San Diego, told the members of the Kiwanis Club Wednesday noon at Community Center the affects of radio activity on human life.

He opened his remarks by saying that the Atom bomb was not of such devastating nature as we have been led to believe.

Now that the potential enemy has the bomb, an effort is being made to take some of the scare out of the people that was instilled in them when the bomb was first used.

The Kiwanis Club will be host to the La Mesa Kiwanians next Wednesday. John Gibson of La Mesa, Lt.-Gov. of the 11th District, will head up the delegation from our neighboring city over the hill.

Boy Suffocates on Toy Balloon

David Grady Chance, four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Chance, 8149 Roy St., suffocated Tuesday afternoon when a balloon which he attempted to blow up became lodged in his throat.

David was playing with two cousins on the porch when the accident happened. A neighbor, Mrs. Russell Gordon, called Dep. Sheriff Rigley who rushed the boy to La Mesa Hospital. Attending physicians removed the balloon and attempted to revive David with artificial respiration.

David's father left December 23 on a ship for the Korea area, his ship now being in China waters. Naval authorities are attempting to notify him and arrange for his return.

Mr. and Mrs. Chance came to El Cajon last August and the very day of the accident, Mrs. Chance was moving into the home on Roy street which she had purchased. The grief-stricken mother is overwhelmed by the great kindness of her neighbors and many others in Lemon Grove.

Funeral services, which will be held in Arkansas, are pending upon word from Mr. Chance. David, who was born on July 31, 1947, in Morriton, Ark., leaves besides his parents, a brother, Ronald K., aged eight months. His maternal and paternal grandparents live in Morriton.

First Fire Truck to Arrive Soon

By J. MORRIS MULKEY

This is the last word that we have had regarding the fire apparatus from R. W. Cornell, manager of the fire engine division of the Mack Motor Truck Corporation.

"(A) The type 45 is in the final week of piping and will be painted sometime during the week of April 16th and this means that the job will be ready for delivery the last week in April.

"(B) The type 95 is enroute to us from the factory at the present time and will arrive here about the middle of April, and we will then have to install the water tank, etc., and it would appear that this job should be ready for delivery along toward the end of May.

We will let you know definitely when the Type 45 will be ready to bring down to you. Sincerely yours, Mack Motor Truck Corporation, by R. W. Cornell."

The insurance on the apparatus and equipment has been awarded to the Girard Fire and Marine Insurance Company, of which Jackson M. Ammons is their authorized agent in this area. We received three bids which were as follows:

Fellows & Dudley $500.00; Jim Pearce $324.00; Jackson M. Ammons $346.97.

The Girard Fire and Marine Insurance Company is a part of the Fireman's Insurance Company of Newark, N. Jersey. They have 20,000 agents in the United States, and their largest fire policy is $600,000.00.

The Girard Fire and Marine Insurance Company was incorporated in Pennsylvania in 1853 and was acquired by the Fireman's Insurance Co. in 1916. The seven companies that are affiliated through the ownership of the New Jersey Investment Company, that owns more than 99 per cent of stock are as follows:

1. Girard Fire and Marine Insurance Company; 2. National Ben Franklin Fire Insurance Co.; 3. Concordia Fire Insurance Co. of Milwaukee; 4. Milwaukee Mechanics Insurance Co.; 5. Metropolitan Casualty Insurance Co. of New York; 6. Royal Plate Glass and General Insurance Co. of Canada; 7. Commercial Casualty Insurance Co.

The Commissioners were of the opinion that a company with such a background would be very capable of meeting the needs of the Lemon Grove Fire Protection District.

School Children Enjoy Indian Chief

Pupils of both morning and afternoon session of the Lemon Grove Elementary School were entertained on Tuesday with an outdoor assembly program presented by Chief Deerfoot, an Apache Indian of New Mexico.

The program consisted of authentic songs and dances of Indians of the Southwest. Chief Deerfoot showed pottery, beadwork and weaving of various tribes, giving valuable and interesting information about each craft. He also described many Indian customs.

This program was made available to students in the school through the Elementary Student Council, which provided funds for this special show.

Willard Rigley, student council president, introduced Chief Deerfoot to both a. m. and p. m. assemblies.

On Wednesday, a similar program was staged by Chief Deerfoot for students at Monterey Heights School.

Schools to Hold Open House Next Week

The Thirty-second Annual Public Schools Week in California will be observed by all schools in Lemon Grove School District from Monday through Friday. The public is cordially invited to visit classrooms at any time during the week.

At Junior High, "open house" will be held on Thursday evening from 7 to 9. A special intramural track meet is scheduled for Friday afternoon, at 12:30.

At Lemon Grove School, the Spring Festival will take place on Tuesday, in both the morning and afternoon. Some classes are planning special programs for visitors throughout the week, while others will demonstrate regular class procedure. No evening sessions will be held.

At Vista La Mesa School, all grades will participate in a special program, "Our Heritage of American Literature." Performances will be given Wednesday morning at 10:30 and Wednesday afternoon at 2:30. "Open house" for all sessions is scheduled for Thursday evening at 7 to 9.

Monterey Heights School will hold "open house" Monday evening, 7 to 9, for all a. m. classes, with p. m. classes scheduled for Wednesday night at the same time. Field Day, demonstrating physical education skills, will be staged on Thursday at 10 a. m.

Expert Talks on Mission Archives

On Thursday evening, April 19, at 8 p. m., San Diego Historical Society will present a study of the Old Mission Archives of California by a man well qualified to discuss them, Dr. Maynard Geiger of Santa Barbara.

The meeting, open to the general public, will be held in the refectory of Junipero Serra Museum, in Presidio Park, a civic memorial to Father Serra, founder and first president of the missions of Alta California.

Dr. Maynard Geiger, O.F.M., Ph. D., is the scholar who had the task of calendaring the 2342 documents contained in the Franciscan archive. Due to his great familiarity with this historical treasure trove, Father Geiger's visit is anticipated by the Society as one of the community's outstanding intellectual treats of the year.

The meeting will be preceded at 6:30 p. m. by a basket supper.

Adobe Bricks Again Becoming Popular Material

Sun dried adobe bricks are becoming increasingly popular for building one-story houses in the West. This rustic and natural looking material insures fireproof, decay-proof, termite-proof, and weatherproof construction, says L. W. Neubauer of the agricultural engineering division of the University of California at Davis.

Cracks in the finished house are reduced to a minimum, he pointed out, because all of the shrinkage and most of the cracking occurs while the bricks are drying and before they are used. This is a distinct advantage over most other types of earth construction.

Adobe bricks are necessarily cheaper than other building materials, Neubauer emphasized. High labor prices raise the cost approximately to that of a good frame house.

Very few natural soils in California will make good sun-dried bricks, according to the University specialist. The proportion of sand to clay must be fairly definite. The soil mixture should be about one-third actual clay or adobe. This acts as the binder, with sand making up the other two thirds. Adding a small quantity of emulsified asphalt or portland cement will increase water resistance and produce better brick.

How effective a soil may be for making the adobe bricks cannot be measured accurately by eye. A generous soil sample should be sent for analysis to one of the adobe soil testing laboratories in the state.

Powow Money Going Into Center Work

John A. Hill has resigned as a member of the Powow, Inc., on account of leaving Lemon Grove to enter civil service at Bremerton, Washington.

He is also resigning as president of the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce at a special meeting of the Board of Directors tomorrow (Friday) evening.

Mr. Hill handed the following letter to Mrs. Edna Snyder, secretary of Powow, Inc., which was read at the annual meeting of the directors Tuesday noon:

"I am leaving Lemon Grove to re-enter Civil Service, and hereby tender my resignation as member of Powow, Inc., effective as of today."

"I do this with mixed feelings, as I have found 'Powow' an interesting experience."

"Powow has now nearly $1000 in the bank, which I hope the Board of Directors will put to immediate use for much needed recreational facilities in the Grove. It is also my sincere hope that Powow will be continued year after year as a united Community activity."

"My heartfelt appreciation goes out toward all those who have so generously given of their time and effort to make the past two Powows a success; my best wishes to all future Powow workers."

There were not enough directors present to conduct the annual election and a meeting was called for Tuesday, May 8, at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, at 12:30 p. m., at which time every organization in the community is urged to send a representative.

Following Mr. Hill's suggestion to use the Powow money immediately, a committee was named to look into the matter of erecting a stage at Community Center. A committee consisting of Roy Neilson, Bob Johnson, Rev. J. Morris Mulkey and G. R. Graham was named to investigate the feasibility, plans and approximate cost of the project.

The committee was instructed to contact county officials and learn what procedure was necessary.

The exact amount of money in the fund is $1558.36. It was felt that spending this money now would hurry along the completion of Community Center so it could be used for entertainment purposes.

This may be an incentive for other organizations to aid in the work.

Mrs. Vernier Again Heads Club

Mrs. H. Irving Vernier, was re-elected president of the Forward Club at the business meeting held last Friday. Mrs. Vernier has been an outstanding leader and under her guidance the membership has grown and the club has prospered.

Others elected were Mrs. R. I. Seder, vice president; Mrs. O. A. Patterson, secretary; Mrs. R. E. Issett, corresponding secretary; Mrs. H. J. Warner, treasurer.

Preceding the business meeting, Mrs. Seder presented Frank Jennings, manager of the Better Business Bureau of San Diego, who spoke on "Local Rackets."

The club house was beautifully decorated by Mrs. L. D. Newton and Mrs. O. R. Patterson. Because this is Campfire Girls Doughtnut week, the hostesses, Mrs. Jack Foster, Mrs. E. W. Meadows and Mrs. L. D. Barnes, served doughnuts and coffee and were enthusiastically applauded for their thoughtfulness.

Guests present were Mrs. C. S. Dail, Mrs. Bisbee, the local artist whose pictures are being shown currently in the Lemon Grove Library, and Mrs. Gertrude Holmes, of San Louis Obispo, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. A. M. Wilson.

Misses H. Irving Vernier, L. D. Newton, O. R. Patterson, L. R. Butler, and F. O. Barber attended the Receptivity tea at Alpha on Thursday.

Shop in Lemon Grove Friday nights.

Truman Says He Knows 1952 Plans; Research Group Urges Higher Taxes

CONFIDENT HARRY—Harry S. Truman, appearing "fat and jolly", as the home town folks would put it, was back in Washington after his three-week vacation in Florida for a round of activities which included greeting President Vincent Auriol of France, and a speech before Latin-American foreign ministers, meeting in Washington to discuss topics concerning western hemisphere peace and security.

But it wasn't confident Harry's speech making and social whirl that made the biggest headlines in the nation's press. It was his statement that he knew whether or not he would seek re-election in 1952 that threw Main Street voters into a surge of speculation. Mr. Truman told them blandly that he had made up his mind and he would tell "all in due time."

The statement also caused considerable speculation among professional politicians throughout the country, with the majority believing he won't run again. Remembering that Truman is no amateur politician himself, average Main Street voters were about equally divided in their speculation.

One government official, however, backed his belief with a public statement. Michael J. Galvin, undersecretary of labor, said Truman will run and will be re-elected by 56 per cent of the popular vote.

CONSUMER SPENDING—If the Committee for Economic Development, a businessmen's private research group, had its way the people of the home towns of the nation would face a $10 billion tax increase next year.

The group recently proposed increasing federal taxes by that amount, including a federal sales tax. The program was frankly tailored to restraining consumer spending—by the sales tax and higher excise taxes, a surtax on individual incomes, tight restrictions on bank credits, and encouragement of private savings.

According to the C.E.D. the small town income group must pay because "it is these incomes that provide the largest part of consumption expenditures."

TWO YEARS OF DRIVE—Charles E. Wilson, top man of the administration's mobilization effort, in his first report said with two more years of drive and unity, the U.S. should be strong enough to give "reasonable safety against aggression" and a high-level civilian economy at the same time.

For the average American in the home towns of the nation, Wilson listed these necessary efforts: (1) Virtually every qualified young man, upon reaching a certain age, will have to serve in the armed forces; (2) everyone will have to pay more taxes; (3) people will have to wait for some of the things they want to buy—new housing and automobiles; (4) there will be dislocations in the economy and some production cutbacks and unemployment; (5) the technological and social progress of the nation will be slowed down.

Upon one point he was insistent: Inflation must be stopped and the economy controlled. In this category is farming, on which the Main Street of America directly or indirectly depends. He said careful attention must be given to changing the farm-price provisions of the Defense Production Act "in such a way as to accomplish a greater degree of stability in food prices and at the same time treat farmers equitably in relation to the other elements of the economy."

As for present price controls, he said: "There is no doubt that, if price controls had not been put on, prices would have risen much farther and faster since January than they actually have."

BRANNAN'S PLAN—The people of the great midwest farm belt where pondering the abrupt shake-up in the department of agriculture by Secretary Brannan. The speculation began when Brannan suddenly announced the replacement of Ralph S. Trigg and Frank K. Woolley in the powerful production and marketing administration.

The people of America's bread basket were wondering if the shake-up may mark the start of another campaign to sell the nation on the Brannan plan. The average midwest farmer has not been enthusiastic about the secretary's proposed program.

NEW SYSTEM—On April 30 grocery items comprising more than 60 per cent of the $32 billion spent annually for food in this country will go under rigid margin controls at wholesale and retail levels.

Michael V. DiSalle, director of price stabilization, who announced the new controls, reported the immediate "impact of these regulations will be to reduce prices," but he warned the Main Street housewife not to expect big reductions.

Among the major foods covered in the new regulations are butter, packaged cheese, baby foods, cocoa, breakfast cereals, coffee and tea, flour, flour mixes, canned and frozen fruits and vegetables, jams and jellies, lard, mayonnaise and salad dressings, shortenings, canned meats and canned fish.

Items not covered are fresh milk and cream, fresh meats, bread, fresh fruits and vegetables, sugar, ice cream, soft drinks and candy, along with many less important foods and "specialty" items.

JAPANESE TREATY—The 14 nations concerned with a peace treaty with Japan have received the American version worked out by Ambassador John Foster Dulles.

Generally regarded as a liberal document, the treaty appears in far considerable difficulties before being accepted by the 14 nations concerned. The Soviet Union has taken the position that it does not even want to discuss the matter. Unexpected British opposition has already been encountered with Great Britain wanting a shipping limitation written into the treaty. The U.S. is opposed to any such clause.

As for the Soviet Union the U.S. has indicated it will negotiate a treaty whether the Russians participate or not.

CLAY RESIGNS—The resignation of Gen. Lucius D. Clay as special assistant to Charles E. Wilson, director of the office of defense mobilization, was viewed by many observers as another move on the government's part to bring organized labor back into the mobilization program.

The way is now open for Wilson to name a representative of labor to a post of equal importance with that of the general to act as liaison between the mobilization director's office and organized labor.

DISAPPOINTING FARM REPORT

1951 Crop Plantings Called Inadequate

A recent report by the agriculture department indicated that farmers were not planning to plant enough crops in 1951 to maintain present levels of food supplies. The report raised the question whether the country is not taking too much for granted about our food production and the possibility of future food shortages, particularly of meat.

On the whole farm prices are good enough to encourage larger crops. Government crop reporters who made the department survey came up with two explanations for reduced plantings: (1) A farm labor shortage and (2) a reluctance to plow up land which, at government urging, had been returned to grass.

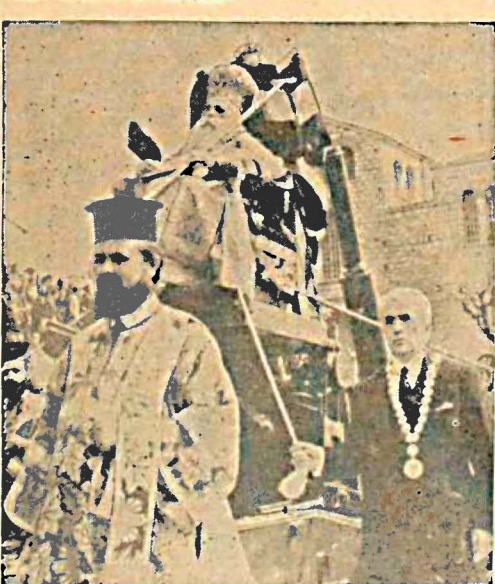

The outlook carries the threat of rigid rationing by next year.

IDENTIFY MISSING SON FROM NEWS PHOTO . . . Mr. and Mrs. Fred Maus, San Francisco, recognize the face of their son, William Maus, missing in action in Korea since November, in a picture of Americans reported held prisoners by Reds. The photo was released in New York by Eastfoto, source of Red propaganda, and transmitted by American news agencies.

GERMAN GENERAL CHARGED WITH ATROCITIES . . . Accused of murdering 150 persons whose mutilated bodies were found near Brest in 1944, German General Hermann Ramcke looks at magazine in French military court, "Cherche Midi," in Paris. Ramcke made an attempt to escape from an army camp in the United States last February. Two other German generals on trial, Kamitschek and Marstelle, are shown seated in the background.

BISHOP GOES TO GRAVE—SITTING . . . The remains of the late Bishop Genadios of Salonika, Greece, seated in the Episcopal throne, are borne through the streets of Salonika on a gun carriage during the funeral services of the bishop. It is the custom for dignitaries of the Greek orthodox church, from the rank of bishop up, to be buried in a sitting position.

GRATEFUL SALUTE . . . Three liberated Americans salute two Korean boys who aided their escape from enemy hands by taking a message to an American patrol. Left to right are P.F.C. Elie L. Wadley, Leachville, Ark.; P.F.C. Kenneth Moreland, Alexandria, Va.; and Cpl. Walter C. Smith. The boys also directed the American patrol to the village where the prisoners were held and then deserted by the fleeing Reds. The Americans are recovering from their ordeal.

Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND DREW PEARSON

No Bed of Roses

HERE ARE a few facts not brought out during the crime committee probe of the glamor girl of the underworld, Virginia Hill:

Miss Hill first broke into prominence among the gangsters when she lived in the Chicago boarding-house where Chicago's Joe Epstein, then a student of accountancy, also lived. Virginia, a restaurant waitress at that time, frequently brought coffee and cakes to the hungry Epstein. Later, when Epstein got out of school, he became an accountant for the underworld, also began helping Miss Hill.

She became a runner for the underworld, carrying money between racketeers in different cities. This was a precarious job. But Virginia was smart enough to keep an intimate diary locked in a vault with a record of the various financial transactions, and instructions that the files were to be made public if anything happened to her.

Mobsters on the lam trusted their money to her—a doubly dangerous assignment; for not only was it illegal, but it put "Miss Hill's life in jeopardy inside the underworld."

The underworld, which lives by a code of its own, knew every time Virginia had a large chunk of cash. The mobsters also knew that if they robbed her, she couldn't report it to the cops. At least half a dozen times, therefore, Virginia was beaten black and blue, and her apartment ransacked in attempts by the underworld to steal loot from itself.

Some televisioners thought Virginia Hill's life was a bed of roses. But it wasn't.

Railroad Strike Impasse

Only one issue has been holding up settlement of the long, bitter railroad strike—namely, the role of Presidential Assistant John Steelman as mediator. The railroads want the likable ex-Alabama college professor to arbitrate future differences, but the railroad brotherhoods want someone else.

One reason that labor won't accept Steelman is a secret memo that was intercepted from S. H. Pulliam to B. B. Bryant, who are handling the strike negotiations for the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad. This secret memo declares: "The rules will be Steelman's. Interpretations which are pretty much the same as the railroads'."

Forrestal's Diary

The defense department has recently been urged to release the private diary of the late Secretary of Defense James Forrestal, and to that end an edited version was sent to the joint chiefs of staff for approval. However, they dropped it like a hot potato.

Some of the hot spots that caused the joint chiefs of staff to keep the diary suppressed are:

Forrestal told how he came close to firing then Secretary of the Air Force Symington in the spring of 1943 for an unauthorized, pro-air force speech on the west coast.

Forrestal also complained of his troubles getting the three services to agree on war strategy and a defense budget. Twice he appealed to General Marshall to support increases in the military budget. The first time, Marshall was secretary of state and favored priorities for foreign aid instead. The second time Marshall urged that the extra money be spent for universal military training.

Forrestal also wrote bitterly of his distrust of the French and British. The diary has now gone back to the custody of the President's naval aide, Rear Adm. Robert L. Dennison.

Wherry Is Willing

Genial Senator Wherry of Nebraska secretly tried to launch a Wherry-for-President boom the other day. But it has boomeranged.

Wherry arranged to send a form letter to GOP national committee members recommending himself "as the party's presidential candidate." The letter went out under the signature of Republican state chairman David Martin of Kearney, Nebraska—supposedly under Wherry's knowledge, but actually upon Wherry's orders.

The letter also included a copy of a speech, plugging Wherry, which was delivered at the Nebraska GOP convention by delegate George Tuman. What the letter neglected to mention, however, is that Tuman is Wherry's campaign manager.

Slow Arms Shipments

Britain's new foreign minister, Herbert Morrison, has complained to the American embassy that U.S. arms are slow in arriving.

Morrison told Ambassador Walter Gifford, former head of American Telephone and Telegraph, that shipments are so far behind it is jeopardizing British plans.

Morrison also apologized that his first official contact since taking over as foreign minister had to do with a complaint.

HEALTH for all

Measles was at one time considered a "necessary" childhood disease—as inevitable as a child's first tooth or his first step. Some mothers would actually expose their little ones to the illness, and others did nothing to keep their youngsters away from children who had the contagious disease because it was considered a relief to have measles "over and done with."

The majority of parents today realize that although a common childhood disease, measles can be a very serious one—mainly because of the grave complications which can follow it. Actually, doctors warn that the likelihood of complications is high with children under two years of age who contract measles. These complications can mean permanent injury to a child's respiratory system.

Moreover, far from being a "light" illness, measles can reduce a child's body resistance so low that he is an easy prey to broncho-pneumonia, mastoid and ear infections, and even tuberculosis.

Measles may occur at any time of the year but the disease seems to reach epidemic proportions most frequently in February and March. The disease, caused by a tiny virus, is spread easily from person to person through direct contact. The virus is carried in the droplets of moisture sprayed into the air when the victim of measles coughs, sneezes, or even as he laughs and talks. There is no specific preventive against measles although recently there has been in use a discovery which can lessen the possibility of grave complications from the disease. It is a serum known as "globulin" developed from blood or blood plasma.

The symptoms of measles resemble those of a cold, with the victim suffering from sneezing, a cough, a running nose, and sometimes a slight fever. The tell-tale red spots appear first inside the mouth, where they are known as Koplik spots, then on the face, neck, and chest, and spread rapidly to the rest of the body.

The mother who knows that her child has been exposed to measles or is getting the disease should put him to bed and call the doctor at once. If the child has the measles, prompt medical care may enable him to ward off possible severe complications. Although measles can be serious for any child or adult who contracts it, special measures should be taken to protect the child between six months and two years of age. After six months, the baby loses his "birth immunity" to measles and may be vulnerable to the disease. Measles should never be treated lightly or neglected. Without prompt and proper medical care, measles can seriously impair a person's health for life.

CLEM WHITAKER, Jr.

With a June 23 adjournment date overhauling activities, the California State Legislature is moving into the last half of its time for the 1951 Regular Session, the time when the major and crucial decisions will be made.

What the decisions on various issues will be is almost as difficult to foretell as they were when the Legislature first convened in January, but a partial line-up in the middle of April is as follows:

The budget: Under heavy attack by an increasingly more powerful economy bloc, the Administration's billion-dollar-plus budget is in for rough sledding. If economy forces continue mustering strength comparable to that shown in weeks past, the line should be held. An outside possibility of minor spending cuts is in evidence. A tax increase appears improbable.

Civil defense: Since the early days of the session when the Administration spoke in terms of 100 million dollars and over for civilian defense, estimates have been revised to place the cost between 10 and 15 million.

Anti-crime: A number of measures dealing with crime control are in the legislative hopper, some to take the profit out of illegal activity, others to tighten enforcement. Most publicized measure is the request for a gubernatorial crime commission with power of subpoena. The State Senate is considering setting up its own crime commission and the Assembly is contemplating a joint Senate-Assembly crime study.

Aid programs: The Legislature showed no inclination to tinker with the George H. McClain pension scheme and now it must be acted upon by the voters. The Administration's proposals to create new aid categories for the permanently and totally disabled, at the moment, are given only a bare chance of passage (California aid payments, opponents contend, already are tops for the Nation). The controversy over liberalized disability insurance benefits still rages with the final outcome pretty much of a question mark.

Liquor: Two proposed alcoholic clinics to be operated by the State are the chief bone of contention.

Reapportionment: While debate has been furious, the measures drawn and passed by the Assembly already probably will go through the Senate with little change. There is a distinct possibility however, that a referendum will be mounted if the proposals pass the Legislature.

Bond issues: Countless measures are pending. If present economy sentiment prevails, few will be passed.

In summation, the overall feeling being expressed in Sacramento, at this stage in proceedings, is for economy. With few exceptions, what happens between now and June will depend mainly on the staying quality of the economy bloc.

FROM THE NEWS CIRCUIT JAMES DORAIS

You may have no desire to go on a diet, and you probably aren't a vegetarian, but whether you want to or not, you may eventually be forced to contemplate a menu like this, day in and day out:

Breakfast: Stewed prunes, fried mush, black coffee.

Lunch: Vegetable soup, peanut butter and jelly sandwich (black bread), tea.

Dinner: Vegetable salad with oil and vinegar, fish, rice, succotash, fruit, black coffee.

A diet like that would be quite healthy. It would, moreover, be extremely efficient, for the inefficient food, such as meat, poultry and dairy products, all have been eliminated.

It may come as a shock to California dairy, poultry and livestock producers that their products, which have a yearly cash value of more than 750 million dollars, nearly 40 percent of the total value of the State's farm crops, are considered inefficient. But that's how they've been labelled by the food experts of the Congressional Joint Economic Committee.

The Committee has just come up with a recommendation for a luxury tax on meat, in order to "promote greater utilization of scarce land and man-power resources."

Eating meat, the experts claim, is just an indirect way of eating hay. And hay is ever so much cheaper! Tasty, too, when you get used to it.

It takes 94 pounds of corn, fed to a beef steer, to produce the same number of calories, in the form of meat, that a person can get in just one pound of corn pone.

And if a person likes corn bread, he can get along beautifully without milk, and save money, too. Feeding corn to a dairy cow for conversion into milk is a very inefficient way of getting calories, compared with grinding it into meal.

The average American is said to eat 17 percent more beef, 30 percent more pork, 45 percent more chicken, 30 percent more eggs and 36 percent more cheese than he did before World War II. As far as the average American is concerned, that's good. But the government experts say it's wasteful and inefficient, and government experts are notorious worriers about waste and inefficiency.

While a heavy tax on meat and dairy products to promote efficient eating habits isn't given too much of a chance just at present, it wouldn't be wise to sell the planners short. The English used to be great beef eaters, but the planners there have arranged it so that Britons now can buy only a quarter of a pound of beef and a quarter of a pound of bacon per person per week.

And take Russia. There, only top party members eat meat. Everyone else gets along efficiently on good, black bread. What a challenge to our food experts!

CAPITOL-COUNTY

News Letter

BY

ASSEMBLYMAN RALPH R. CLOYED

The California Legislature, like most other legislatures, seems to have its post-mortem committee. It is not a formal official affair. Its personnel changes from day to day. The subject most discussed at present is MacArthur vs. Truman.

When the news hit that the general had been ousted and telegrams and telephone calls began coming to the legislators urging the adoption of resolutions praising MacArthur and others demanding the impeachment of Truman, the post-mortem committee began choosing sides.

While I seldom express my personal views in my weekly report, it seems to me that the firing of MacArthur is purely political and assassinates the career of a fighting soldier and a military statesman and dates back to Truman's visit to the South Pacific last fall when he spent an hour with the general. It seems to me, that since that time there has been much criticism of MacArthur by the Federal administration. In my opinion, in addition to the loss of a great general, MacArthur's dismissal will be taken by Russia as a weakness in the United States and will bring us nearer to war.

Just before adjournment on Friday, the Assembly passed a resolution by a unanimous vote that the Speaker appoint a committee of five to greet General MacArthur on his return to San Francisco and to invite him to visit and speak to the Legislature.

Artie Samish, legislative representative (lobbyist), is denied credentials by the Legislative Screening Committee. Several reasons were cited by the committee for refusing the credentials. He had told the Kefauver committee that he had no record of the $1,000,000 public relation fund placed at his disposal by the State Brewers Association. The committee took cognizance of the Governor's Crime Commission report which linked Samish with Mickey Cohen as well as the action by the legislature in 1949 which passed a resolution barring him from the rolls of the legislature forever.

Child Care Centers measure introduced by Assemblyman Geddes will soon be before the Assembly. The bill continues child care centers as part of the mobilization effort. The new means test would raise the ceiling from $175 to $225 per month based on a five day week. Defense industry men, principally from the aircraft industry, have been urging the measure as additional help is needed that must come from within.

Alimony Bill by Senator Kraft that provides that a woman could not get alimony if she has the ability to work was held over by the Senate Judiciary Committee. Kraft says women are making a racket out of divorce and live a life of ease and the bill is designed to relieve a bunch of suckers who get stuck with alimony.

Farmers will be relieved of $27 a year weight tax on their trucks that are 10 years or more old, if the bill passed out of the Transportation Committee wins final approval.

Two Crime War bills of the crime stopping variety, originated in the Senate, in addition to the Warren Crime Commission proposal. The authors of both Senate proposals seek to create a Senate crime committee—one of seven members, the other of five members. Both measures would give the committee power to subpoena witnesses. The Assembly voted 63 to 9 to give the new crime commission which Governor Warren intends to appoint the right to compel witnesses to appear.

Mentally handicapped would get state financed aid if the Assembly Education Committee's "do pass" recommendation runs the gauntlet and reaches the Saturday 10 a. m.

governor's desk.

Draw poker ban receives the support of the governor. The bill, A. B. 3377, by Kloksicm, would close poker parlors.

Hot Cargo, the controversial measure to prohibit secondary boycott, and so-called hot cargo, is set for hearing in Senate Committee for April 26.

In addition to visitors Tom Hamilton, Howard Turrentine, Carroll Husher, Calvin Lauderback, George Yackey, Glen Murdoch from San Diego County, the Assembly also had as their guests Joe E. Brown and Hildegarde this week.

Specialists Discuss Visual Training

At a recent visual training seminar, sponsored by the San Diego County Optometric Association, many interesting and encouraging theories and techniques were presented to the large gathering in attendance.

Many facts of interest to the doctors were presented that should be of interest to parents also.

The reason a child's eyes turn in or out has long been a mystery to the men in the science of vision. It has not been until recently that it was felt perhaps the cause, in whole or in part, was correlated with the actual growth of the child, and the environment in which this growth occurred. These latest developments in the thinking of modern Optometry are encouraging in that men are now thinking in terms of preventive as well as corrective procedures.

Since nature gifted mankind with two eyes, as well as two arms and two legs, nature must certainly have intended that there be a correlation between these bilateral functions. And as actual physical growth is away from the center, so also mental development and perception develop away from the body in all directions. The principal medium of this development is our priceless gift of vision, aided in very close alliance in the early stages by the hands.

When the baby is first able to discern an object, he reaches out and grabs; first with one hand, then the other. He then brings it in to a convenient point, where, holding it with both eyes, he sees it with both eyes. This procedure continues into space until he reaches a barrier, such as a bright object on the dinner table, which he cannot reach from the high chair, or the ball he has thrown out of the play pen, and is out of reach. Since coordination of all functions is impossible that far away, he returns his activity to a point closer in space where it is possible. However, normal growth demands that perception be extended into space beyond arms reach, and since coordination of all functions has proven difficult that far out in space, some new arrangements must be made. Unfortunately, in many cases, the child ceases to coordinate both eyes further out in space, as is more convenient to have the coordinated use of hands and feet. He learns to adapt himself to his environment using one eye predominantly, thereby allowing the other to wander more or less at will.

Added to that, modern civilization has demanded that the child perform far above his visual capacity, which only aggravates existing visual disturbances, and very often instigates visual problems in children not previously affected in the preschool age.

Various training procedures and techniques have been designed to correct and prevent visual problems in children, not only office training, but home training. Many games, such as hop scotch, jumping rope, roller skating, ping pong, and others, have proven to be quite successful in correlating the use of the eyes with the hands and feet. However, perhaps the most important factor towards success in any form of visual training is limiting the tasks to be performed.

The men of modern Optometry can take pride in the great progress made in recent years to protect the vision of our children, and they have no doubt often thought of the time worn quotation, "A man who stands the straightest is one who stoops to help a child."

Dr. James C. W. White of Lemon Grove was chairman of the seminar.

Club Women Hear Popular Speaker

"The History of San Diego Bay" will be brought to Forward Club members and their guests on Friday of next week at 2 p. m. Edward J. P. Davis, public relations officer of the City of San Diego Harbor Department, will be the guest speaker, presented by Mrs. R. I. Seder.

As the speaker's subject will also include information concerning the geological formation of the Bay, federal government maps will be used to identify places and conditions in the Bay at the time of its discovery and early settlement.

Regular business will be conducted by the president, Mrs. H. Irving Vernier, and the tea hour will have as hostesses, Mrs. J. L. Felber and Mrs. Mary Livesey. Mrs. Vernier will report for the club at the annual convention of San Diego County Federation of Women's Clubs at El Cortez Hotel, San Diego, next Thursday.

The Book Section will meet with Mrs. Wm. P. Donovan at her home in San Diego at 2 p. m. Friday.

Want Helpers for Cancer Crusade

An appeal for 200 volunteers to assist in the 1951 Cancer Crusade here was made today by Anderson Bortwick, San Diego County chairman of the American Cancer Society's fund raising and educational drive. Bortwick announced the goal for the county as $77,500 which was assigned as this county's share by the California division of American Cancer Society.

The 1951 goal here compares with $70,000 which was the assigned goal in the 1950 drive.

"It is apparent that a greater effort will be needed to reach the goal this year," Bortwick said.

"The fight to control cancer cannot remain static. The program of American Cancer Society must be constantly strengthened from year to year and this means an ever-increasing need for funds for research and the educational and service programs."

"We will need volunteers to man the various committees necessary for a successful drive," Bortwick said. "We must reach every home with our appeal. I hope that representatives from every segment of our community will volunteer for this life-saving work."

SHORT STORY

A Case For The Kids

By O. F. Lathrop

SAM BROMLEY replaced the telephone in its cradle with a alarm and reached for his broad-brimmed felt.

"I'm reaching for this case myself," he told the office girl. "That's the third call in an hour about these explosions and the deputies don't seem to be doing a thing."

The pavement just blew up over a culvert and broke five windows in the Wright Hatcher near Sunville."

He stomped out and got into his car.

He had an uneasy feeling about these blasts and a very personal reason for investigating them himself. People in little towns all over the county had been calling for the last twenty-four hours. And his son, Tommy, was missing.

"I thought the Rooshians had bombed us," old Ben Grubbs in Claremont had said. "Busted the sidewalk over the creek like eggshells."

Sam drove to all the spots reported and inspected the damage. Sidewalks heaved up, windows shattered, but not a clue. At the Sunville Hatchery he met his deputies.

"What do you make of it, Sheriff? Could be Red sabotage, eh?"

Sam shook his head. "Hoodlums, probably. Not any real damage done." But he didn't say what was in his mind—that it could even be kids' pranks.

He thought uneasily again of his own son, Tommy, and that crazy gang of his. Still, it didn't seem as if kids would go that far.

All day he drove around and at supper-time he went wearily home. Somehow the baked potatoes and ham didn't appeal to him.

"Where's Tommy?" he demanded of his wife.

"He'll be coming later," Ida assured him. "He's all excited about these explosions. The fellows have been kidding him about his dad not stopping them. I'm sorry, Sam," she said, as he jumped up.

"Where was he last night?" he persisted. "Out all hours!"

"Oh, just around, as he says. Studying at Ted's and they stopped for a hamburger at Joe's place. I believe him, Sam."

BUT Sam put on his hat and went out. He had to know. At Joe's place he got out of the car and went in.

"Tommy in here last night for a hamburger, Joe?" he asked.

"Yep, he was, Sam," Joe answered. "Just then there was another low boom and a thud, Sam made for the door. He tracked the sound by the crowd. And there he found Tommy and his gang hovering over a hole in the bridge.

As he came into the light, Sam saw dark rings around his son's eyes and smudges among the freckles.

"I saw 'em, Dad. We've followed that old jolopy till we saw them stop by this creek, and we slipped up and watched. It was that wild bunch from Milville High. They had a great stunt—balloons filled with gas. They light the kerosene-soaked string and then beat it. And by the time the string burns up to the balloon they can be miles away."

Sam scratched his head sheepishly. "As simple as that, eh? But we'll soon have them in jail if you've got the proof."

Tommy looked thoughtful. "Oh, I have. But what those kids need is something to do—not jail. There's nothing for kids to do around these little towns but think up deviltry for excitement. People ought to help plan something for them to do instead. I might have been one of them myself."

Sam grinned. "I guess you're right at that. In fact, I thought that you might be in on it."

"Me? Huh! I've been trailing them down because the fellows said my dad was a no-good sheriff, and I knew better. I had to help."

Sam smiled again. "Guess I better put you on as deputy. You had me worried. Maybe we've been going at this whole business wrong-end-to. I'll try your angle and see what we can do."

Sam grinned. "I guess you're right at that. In fact, I thought that you might be in on it."

Loss of Simmons, Houtteman Felt

By GRANTLAND RICE

A FEW DAYS AGO we spent two successive days with two of the best managers baseball has known in many years. One is a doctor of philosophy with a Phi Beta Kappa key. His name is Eddie Sawyer. The other was Red Rolfe, Dartmouth graduate on the cum laude side.

These may not be the only college graduates managing a big-league team, but they are the highest up on the collegiate ladder. Last year Eddie Sawyer led the National League while Red Rolfe ran second in the American, which is no knock at a college education.

Now after their brilliant campaigns through 1950 they both have the same problem. Each has lost a star pitcher and neither has found a helpful replacement.

"I have to gamble on Trucks or Gray or one of the rookies to help make up these 19 games that Houtteman won," Red Rolfe said.

"I'll have to gamble on the rest of the staff picking up the slack," Eddie Sawyer remarked in a rainy-day fanning session.

"It might be Keo Heintzelman. It might be Bubba Church. I expect better years from them both."

Outside of the losses of Simmons and Houtteman, the two teams are just about the same as they were last year. It so happens both teams face heavy opposition. The Phillies must grapple with Giants, Dodgers, Braves and Cardinals. Giants and Dodgers are dead sure to be tougher than uncooked buffalo meat. Braves and Cardinals with two flocks of able pitchers can be tougher than rated, with low-grade infielders. Or at least second-division infielders.

The Tigers have no one to mow down except the Yankees, bolstered up with Sox, and tougher looking Indians. The Yankees have also lost a star pitcher in Whitey Ford. But they had more to start with than the Tigers had.

The Tigers and the Phillies are among the big successes of the new campaign. I doubt that either can finish better than second. They might finish fourth. But both are pretty sure to finish in the first division.

Doubtful Spots

The doubtful spots belong to the National League.

As far as you can see from this late outlook, Glens and Dodgers or Dodgers and Giants should run

Williams and Droppo are not too far back of the Ruth-Gehrig class. And there is also a destructive force in the bats of Bobby Doerr, Johnny Pesky, Vern Stephens, Coleman and others who give an opposing pitcher few resting spots. It makes a big difference when a pitcher can work on a dangerous hitter and then ease up on one of the 250 starters. But when he can't rest anywhere along the line it is a different story.

Last season Bob Lemen had an 11-to-0 lead around the third in one game. But the Indians still lost.

Williams, Pesky, Doerr, Stephens, Dom DiMaggio and Boudreau have been around for quite a spell. They are rapidly getting no younger, as Mae Smith used to say. But they still have better than a single good season left.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Add some finely chopped spinach to pancake batter and make spinach pancakes. Serve with pot roast or as a vegetable. This is guaranteed to make spinach a favorite even amongst those hard to convert.

Chopped liver seasoned and mixed with bread crumbs and egg makes a first rate main dish especially when the patties are wrapped in bacon and cooked with tomato sauce.

Crisp, cooked bacon slivers added to your French dressing give a novel flavor to vegetable or citrus fruit salads. You may also add a bit of condensed tomato soup to it if you like the richness.

If an oil lamp flickers a lot, pour a teaspoonful of salt into the base.

Loose crumbs mixed in through the frosting spoil the appearance of many a good cake. Let cake cool, then brush crumbs with one hand while holding with the other one.

Frostings and icings should be cooled before being spread on the cake; otherwise, they may soak into cake.

Chocolate or butter cakes are lovely when you sprinkle confectioners' sugar immediately after taking them from the oven. If sprinkled over a lace doily, the sugar leaves a pattern.

One of the handiest things for dusting a pleated lamp shade is a man's shaving brush.

To clean a parchment shade, rub it with a fresh piece of white bread or an art-gum eraser, or with a cloth dipped in milk. In any case, be sure to brace the inside of the shade with one hand while you rub with the other, or you may poke the rubbing hand right through.

undergo from 24 to 30 months specialized training beyond that of a registered nurse or physical therapist, are in fact disciples of Elizabeth Kenny, to whom they have a personal allegiance. That allegiance, faith in her work and what they have seen accomplished, has no international barriers.
Chief Therapist, for example, is Dr. Zina Symeonides, a White Russian educated in Greece, holding a medical degree in that country and one who has served faithfully under Sister Kenny for the past five years. Dr. Symeon-ides is one of the few persons in American history who has been granted an act of Congress so that she may remain in this country to continue her humanitarian work.

She and others with just as unusual backgrounds are helping to turn the beautiful El Monte Institute into a Mecca for those requiring polio treatment. The beautiful $300,000 facility, with two established wings yet unopened and unoccupied because of lack of funds, formerly was known as the Ruth Home and operated by the Southern California Protective Society. The first wing, which houses 29 patients, was opened August 24, 1950, with Sister Kenny participating in the dedication. Major objectives in the $300,000 May drive of the Foundation are expansion of its activities at the Ruth-Elizabeth Kenny Institute, its Out-Patient Clinic and the training of Kenny therapists.

Lending additional international flavor to the hospital's operation is the presence, also,
of Kenny Therapist Amy Lindsay of British birth who learned the principles of Kenny therapy in England as well as this country.
Others on the Therapist Staff include Mrs. Marjorie Wells who hails from Boston; Mrs. Ida M.
Kay, Minnesota, and two Californians, Mrs. Florence Weatherhult and Richard J. Greenwood.
The El Monte facility is located just two miles east of El Monte in a rural setting. It has been pronounced by the leading medical and hospital authorities as one of the finest equipped institutions of its kind in the West.
Entirely on ground level, the hospital has, in addition to an 80-patient capacity, nurses' quarters, operating rooms, executive offices, spacious reception and recreation rooms and a school facility for children from first grade through high school.
It has its own mainmoot kitchen,
a dining room and laundry.
Lawns and flowers abound and ample playground for convalescing child victims is provided.

Church Has World Wide Mission Plan

The Seventh-day Adventist annual world wide mission appeal for 1951 opened April 7. The Lemon Grove Church began its program with a sermon by the pastor, Charles H. Betz, entitled,
"Go work today," and with four members already minute men with contributions of $21.00 each, as it requires that much per minute to support the denomination's World-wide mission, medical and educational work.

Solicitation of additional funds is going well with the church divided into 11 hands with a total goal of $1550.00.

Present Seventh-day Adventist world membership is 716,538;
with the membership for North America 243,193. Organized in 1863 with 3,500 members, the church now works in 706 languages in 228 of the 282 countries of the world.

During the four years ending with 1949, 1,235 workers were sent by Seventh-day Adventists from home bases for service in mission lands.

At the close of 1949 Adventists were operating 3,854 elementary and mission schools with 5,904 teachers and 162,764 pupils. This is an increase of 665 schools, 1,127 teachers and 39,183 pupils in the last four years. 32,277 students were enrolled in the 310 Adventist schools above the elementary level at the close of 1949.

Fifty Adventist publishing houses, 45 of them overseas, reported book and periodical sales of $12,456,770 in 1949. These institutions issue literature in 195 languages.

Adventists also operate 161 medical institutions throughout the world. They maintain a medical school, given an A rating by the American Medical association—the college of Medical Evangelists. It annually graduates from 75 to 100 doctors. Adventist hospitals graduate about 400 nurses each year.

Their radio program "The Voice of Prophecy" is now heard over 7000 stations throughout the world, 464 of them in North America. They were the first denomination to employ television in proclaiming the gospel message, with their program "Faith for Today" which is broadcast here over Channel 7 at 12:30 p. m. on Sunday afternoons.

Always greatly appreciated as any help in carrying out the divine commission, "Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature—to every kindred, tongue, and people."

FARM NEWS AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION SERVICE

Re-seeding Burned Brushlands

Re-seeding done this past winter on the Conejos burn has proven very practical where some type of seed coverage was practiced, according to Fred W.
Dorman, Farm Advisor.

In spite of low rainfall good stands of seeded annuals were obtained where the seed was covered by disking, raking, or rolling with a sheepfoot.

On both the Kern and Sama-tagama Ranches, experimental plots of the Agricultural Extension Service will be seen. These include mixtures of annual and perennial pasture plants, with different methods of seed coverage. Both ranches also have extensive plantings of pasture mixtures on a commercial scale.

A so-called "pilot wing," wherein research can be conducted under simulated commercial conditions, is a major feature of the new Food Technology Division building due for completion by September on the Davis campus, University of California College of Agriculture.

The wing ultimately will be outfitted with machinery and equipment for duplicating any process used by the food industry.

It will serve as a laboratory for instruction of students in semi-commercial operations and for practical application of research. Numerous food processes will be studied and practiced, such as dehydration, freezing, canning, evaporation, pickling and packaging.

The wing will also be used to run cooperative tests on new varieties developed by other divisions of the college. New varieties of vegetables and fruits will be put through trial packs to test their potentialities as commercial products.

The cold storage and incubator rooms will enable technologists to make tests under greatly varied conditions. Deterioration of fresh and processed foods under long and short term storage at different temperatures can be observed.

Humidity-control tests can also be made. For example, the relative loss of weight by apples stored in different humidities and temperatures can be measured.
